BIENNIAL REPORT

2009 - 2011

Advancing Wisconsin's economy and business climate by empowering and supporting the workforce.

October 14, 2011

The Honorable Scott Walker
Office of the Governor
115 East, State Capitol
Madison, WI 53702

Members of the Wisconsin State Legislature
State Capitol Building
Madison, WI 53702

Dear Governor Walker and Members of the Legislature:

I am pleased to provide you with this report on the Department of Workforce Development (DWD) for the biennium ending June 30, 2011.

As you are well aware, the period includes a change in administration on January 3, 2011. Under your leadership, Governor Walker, DWD has acted quickly to move the state's workforce system in a new direction, one that supports your goal of promoting a business climate that helps the private sector create 250,000 jobs in four years.

Our mission at DWD is advancing Wisconsin's economy and business climate by empowering and supporting the workforce, and our vision is to make Wisconsin the workforce of choice.

This report spans two years of workforce development efforts, but I want to note briefly some of our accomplishments so far this year:

- 2011-13 Budget – The fiscally responsible budget required tough decisions to get Wisconsin moving in the right direction. The budget included a one-week waiting period for initial payment of Unemployment Insurance benefits, saving $45.2 million a year when the measure takes effect next year. The budget also included $15 million a year in state funding for vocational rehabilitation services to serve people with disabilities.
- New website – One of my top priorities was to work with staff to identify ways we can better serve the public and communicate the many things we do every day to serve the people of Wisconsin. On June 20th, we launched a redesigned agency website at <http://dwd.wisconsin.gov/>, making it easier for job seekers, employers and the public to find information about our programs and services. This project was done in house with existing staff and resources.
- www.JobCenterofWisconsin.com – Our overall objective is to get Wisconsin working again, whether in new jobs we help create or existing positions that are vacant. At every opportunity, we promote this free, user-friendly employment site. Job postings by employers have set records, exceeding 34,000 on a given day and topping 100,000 in early September, surpassing the 75,000 total postings for all of last year.
- Governor's Council on Workforce Investment – In step with efforts to create a more business friendly environment, the Governor's Council on Workforce Investment now has greater private sector representation. The council will play an important role as we work with our partners and all stakeholders to align resources, target funding more effectively and achieve the best results. At DWD, we are working closely with the new Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation to advance the economy.
- Unemployment Insurance – Working in consultation with the Unemployment Insurance Advisory Council, we are setting forth a plan to restore solvency in the UI trust fund, repay funds borrowed from the federal government and strengthen program integrity. As noted, Wisconsin now has a one-week waiting period for benefits. We are working with the UI Advisory Council on other steps to balance the fund. Program integrity efforts have been ongoing.

The year also included centennial celebrations of the two programs that started in Wisconsin and served as models to the nation, the Wisconsin Apprenticeship Program and Worker's Compensation. The apprenticeship program remains one of our best training programs and will serve us well in meeting the needs of employers for skilled workers. With its focus on safety, the worker's compensation program will help employers maintain safe, productive worksites and control costs. Much as we are working to move Wisconsin in a new direction and seek innovation, we also are committed to maintaining effective programs and services, improving them as needed.

We are pleased to be a part of your efforts to advance Wisconsin's economy and create new employment opportunities for the people of Wisconsin, and we look forward to continued success.

Sincerely,

Department Overview

The Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development (DWD) is the state agency charged with advancing Wisconsin's economy and business climate by empowering and supporting the workforce. The department's vision is to make Wisconsin the workforce of choice by supporting Governor Walker's "Open for Business" agenda in partnership with the private sector to make available the resources necessary to ensure a skilled and talented workforce that will lead to high-wage, high-skill jobs for all Wisconsinites.

DWD supports a broad spectrum of employment programs and services available throughout the state at numerous service locations (including 22 Comprehensive Job Centers) and on the internet at <http://dwd.wisconsin.gov>. These programs and services provide specialized training, recruitment and retention assistance to private-sector businesses and to potential employees. DWD is also responsible for administering the state's unemployment insurance program, investigating complaints of workplace discrimination, and supporting worker's compensation insurance.

At DWD, there is a commitment to ensuring that training and employment opportunities are aligned toward high-wage, high-growth jobs and that the private sector is an active and engaged participant in matching the current workforce with current and future labor demands.

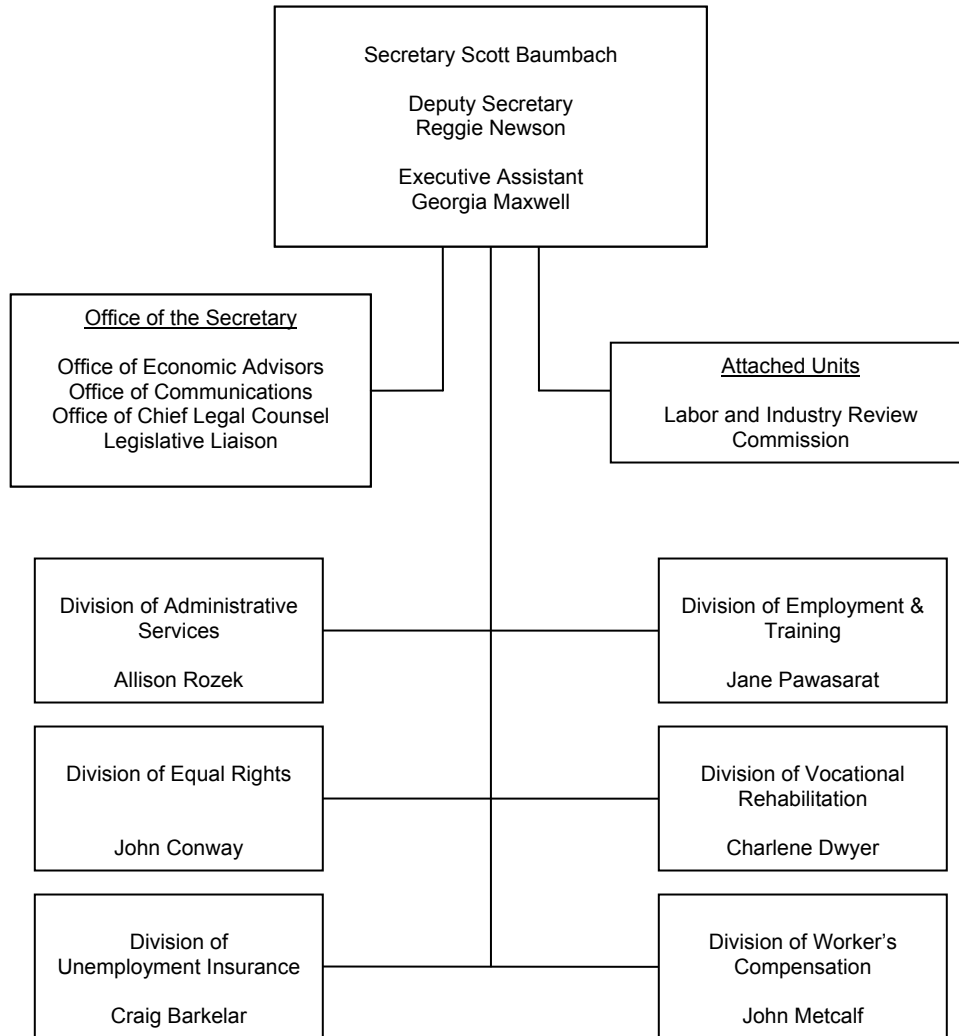

The department is led by Secretary Scott Baumbach, appointed by Governor Scott Walker in June 2011. The annual operating budget for DWD is over $400 million, and its staff totals approximately 1,600 full-time equivalent positions. DWD currently consists of five program divisions, an administrative services division and one administratively-attached entity, the Labor and Industry Review Commission (LIRC).

The department's achievements since Governor Walker took office are significant. Of special note, the department:

- ◆ Celebrated the centennial of our Worker's Compensation and Apprenticeship programs.
- ◆ Convened a new Council on Workforce Investment and provided the Governor with a list of key workforce priorities.
- ◆ Promoted JobCenterofWisconsin.com, which has seen record usage this biennium, including over 100,000 jobs posted so far in 2011, 44,633 resumes posted by job-seekers and over 5,200 new employers registered.
- ◆ Served over 308,000 customers through Job Center resource rooms, including 5,100 workshops for over 31,000 job-seekers.

- ◆ Distributed more than $6.29 billion in Unemployment Insurance (UI) benefits to approximately 1,097,189 claimants.
- ◆ For the first time, a majority of UI claimants were able to complete a weekly claim on-line, saving valuable resources to address benefit discrepancies.
- ◆ Procured new federal grant funding totaling $1.4 million for program integrity efforts to reduce improper payments and educate UI constituents.
- ◆ Conducted 2,345 Worker's Compensation pre-hearing and settlement conferences to resolve contested cases.

Apprenticeship

Program Summary

Started in 1911, the Wisconsin Apprenticeship Program is the oldest such program in the United States. Wisconsin has deliberately shaped its laws to include apprenticeship as part of the educational structure of the state. DWD's Bureau of Apprenticeship Standards is responsible for administering the program. The Bureau administers the program through its strong partnerships with industry, labor, education and government with the goal to produce highly-skilled and trained apprenticeship graduates.

Accomplishments 2009-2011

- ◆ A total of 3,726 apprentices graduated or completed their apprenticeship program. During that same period, 4,288 new apprentices were registered. As of July 2011, Wisconsin had 9,030 apprentices and 2,543 employers sponsoring apprenticeship programs. As of July 1, 2010 Wisconsin had 7,627 apprentices sponsored by 2,345 employers. Employer participation in the apprenticeship program increases and decreases with economic demand.
- ◆ Certified over 270 new employers during the SFY 2009-2011 biennium who became active sponsors in training apprentices. Trained apprentices in approximately 200 occupations, and added 18 new occupations in the 2009-2011 biennium.
- ◆ Hosted the 100th Anniversary of Wisconsin's Apprenticeship program in Madison from June 12-14, 2011 that highlighted both traditional apprenticeship programming and emerging trends and innovations. Participants included employers, labor, employer association members, technical college instructors and other apprenticeship partners and stakeholders. In conjunction with the conference, an Apprentice Expo with pictures, memorabilia and artifacts from the past century were on display, highlighting that the past century of apprenticeship's tradition has firmly positioned the program to meet skilled training needs of the next century. Eleven new members were added to the 74 existing members of the Wisconsin Apprenticeship Program Hall of Fame during the conference. The Hall of Fame was created to honor individuals who made an exceptional contribution to the success of the Wisconsin apprenticeship system during their working lifetime.
- ◆ On January 20, 2010, DWD and the Wisconsin Council on Workforce Investment received a $6 million federal State Energy Sector Partnership (SESP) grant from the U.S. Department of Labor under the federal American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) of 2009. The grant funds are to expand and upgrade apprenticeship training to incorporate skill requirements related to renewable energy and energy efficiency. The grant award provides curriculum, equipment and instructor training to organizations associated with new and existing statewide apprenticeship programs for specific trades participating in the Wisconsin Sector Alliance for the Green Economy (SAGE) project. The U.S. Department of Labor approved the grant in order to establish a training partnership system to green construction, manufacturing and utility occupations in energy efficiency, renewable energy, green manufacturing and smart grid utility skills. SAGE is a three year grant that will conclude December 31, 2012.
- ◆ In 2011 five new apprentice programs were established: Wastewater Treatment Plant Operator; Dairy Grazier; Welding & Fabrication; Maintenance Technician; and Coating Application Specialist.
- ◆ Wisconsin's apprenticeship program policies and procedures were updated to comply with rules identified in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance 29.29.
- ◆ The apprenticeship and Department of Corrections partnership has continued to flourish. With the beginning of the cook/chef program in one institution during the 2003-2005 biennium, the apprenticeship program has now grown to 23 occupations in 67 different institutions. In addition, apprenticeship staff work with correctional re-entry staff to place the apprentices with employers upon release from the institutions. Sixteen inmates who have been released have been placed as apprentices through this program.

- ◆ The apprenticeship program incorporated Transition to Trainer requirements for all apprenticeable occupations in Wisconsin. The Transition to Trainer training provides the newly completed apprentice tools the apprentice needs for their new responsibility as a journey worker/trainer; including creating a positive work environment, how to deliver hands-on training and processes for providing useful feedback to apprentices.

Upcoming Initiatives

- ◆ Expand the number of employers who use apprenticeship to train their skilled workforce both in traditional high growth, high wage and non-traditional industries.
- ◆ Continue outreach initiatives to include recruiting and retaining women and minorities in the apprentice trades by implementing two discretionary grants.
- ◆ Continue and expand the division's successful Veterans in Piping (VIP) program. The VIP program is an 18 week training program. Successful graduates receive welding and rigging certifications and qualify as a second year pipefitter apprentice. Successful completion of a registered apprenticeship program in the pipe trades translates into journey worker status and a substantial wage that averages more than $50 per hour with benefits.

Civil Rights

Program Summary

All employment and training contracts must meet civil rights and Affirmative Action /Equal Employment Opportunity (AA/EEO) requirements. The DET Civil Rights program assures these criteria are met through contract planning, monitoring and evaluation and defining performance standards that must be met.

Accomplishments 2009-2011

- ◆ Submitted Methods of Administration to the U.S. Department of Labor Civil Rights Center (CVC) for re-certification of compliance with civil rights requirements under the Workforce Investment Act on April 11, 2011. The approval period will run approximately two years from whenever CVC recertifies the department until 2013.
- ◆ Completed 5 of 11 on-site Civil Rights compliance monitoring reviews for Workforce Development Boards (WDBs): NWCEP, West Central, Southwestern, Western and Southeast.
- ◆ Revised and issued the DET Limited English Proficiency Plan, including an updated inventory of DET's Vital Documents.

Upcoming Initiatives

- ◆ Transmit draft Civil Rights compliance monitoring reports for the five WDBs reviewed.
- ◆ Simplify the Civil Rights Plan Requirements which are jointly issued by the DET and the Wisconsin Departments of Health Services (DHS) and Children and Families (DCF).

Council on Workforce Investment

Program Summary

The Council on Workforce Investment (CWI) is the federally required state-level workforce investment board mandated by the Workforce Investment Act (WIA). It is an advisory council to the Governor, responsible for developing the WIA state plan and continuously improving the statewide workforce system.

Accomplishments 2009 - 2011

- ◆ The CWI moved to regional sector approaches within the workforce system:
 - ◆ CWI members participated in a year-long process with the National Governor's Association Policy Academy on Regional Sector Strategies that provided groundwork to develop industry sector activities. The initial multi-faceted activities were industry-driven regional efforts to engage all of the key players in understanding common industry needs, and aligning resources to meet them. WIA state set-aside funds provided convening and training grants to target skill gaps.
 - ◆ CWI subcommittees were restructured to support sector strategy activities, avoid duplication of effort and ensure coordination with existing policy-making bodies and advisory groups who provide input to DWD on industry needs. The three subcommittees were expanded to include non-CWI public and private-sector representatives in priority industry sectors: health care, energy and advanced manufacturing.
- ◆ The CWI has invested in statewide skill assessment tools, work readiness certification and career information efforts:
 - ◆ Recommended the statewide use of WorkKeys, an on-line skill assessment which forms the foundation for the National Career Readiness Certificate (NCRC). The NCRC is a nationally recognized certificate benchmarking an individual's career proficiency in reading, simple math and locating information.
 - ◆ Recommended WIA Title I DOL waivers, including Common Measures for Performance and employer financial incentives for on-the-job training and customized training.
 - ◆ The CWI's Executive Committee also reviewed a variety of options for programmatic evaluation and reporting activities, including "dashboard reports" that reflect workforce development spending and training outcomes at the State and WDB levels in order to design a comprehensive annual "report card" on workforce programs that would be used to determine future workforce funding priorities.
- ◆ Increased Bridge and Career Pathway Programs:
 - ◆ The CWI endorsed, and has overseen, the Regional Industry Skills Education (RISE) Bridge and Career Pathways program. The Bridge programs provide Basic Education/equivalencies, English as a Second Language, and occupational training concurrently. The program prepares adults for entry into post-secondary education that leads to a certification, diploma or associate degree. With a private grant from the Joyce Foundation, DWD and the Wisconsin Technical College System partnered to implement the RISE project.

- ◆ The CWI supported pilot programs for improved career information and career pathway outreach in the K-12 systems and technical college districts.
- ◆ The CWI petitioned the Wisconsin Congressional delegation for continued federal funding of the Summer Youth Employment Program, based on the success employers have had with the program and with encouraging youth to learn transferable job skills and a wage.

Upcoming Initiatives

Since its inception in 1991, over 16,000 Wisconsin students have successfully completed the YA program.

Accomplishments 2009-11

- ◆ Updated and revised skill standard competencies and all associated materials for 8 of 15 YA programs, taking additional steps to align the programs according Career Clusters and their relevant pathways to success. Career Cluster pathways are recognized nationally by education and workforce programs. Those revised included Biotechnology, Drafting & Design/Architecture, Drafting & Design/Mechanical, Drafting and Design/Engineering, Information Technology, Information Technology/Networking, Production Agriculture/Animal Science, and Production Agriculture/Crops and Soils.
- ◆ Enrolled more than 3,300 students, representing 180 public and private school districts; over 1,300 employers participated in the program.
- ◆ Issued annual Request for Proposals for 2009-10 and 2010-11 for $2.2 million and $2.07 million to 36 (2009 – 10) and 35 (2010 – 11) partnerships for the two years.
- ◆ Implemented Credit for Prior Learning model for YA graduates' post-secondary credits that are transferable to the Wisconsin Technical College System and the UW System.

Upcoming initiatives

- ◆ Revise and update the skill standard competencies and all associated materials for the Graphic Design/Printing Program, with additional updates planned for Manufacturing, Welding and Health Services.
- ◆ Conduct analysis to demonstrate the costs and benefits of the program through the use of UI employment and wage data, database searches, employer surveys, etc. This information will provide valuable information to both state and national employment and training and education fields about local and state 'returns' on our investment in this program.

- ◆ Facilitate expansion of the Credit for Prior Learning to YA graduates within the UW system.
- ◆ Revision and publication of the DWD Equal Rights Child Labor Guide. The guide will be enhanced to include aspects on Risk Assessment for work-based learning programs and Worker's Compensation for minors. This is a collaborative effort between internal DWD divisions as well as external partners including Department of Public Instruction, U.S. Department of Labor Wage and Hour Division, and independent risk assessment professionals.

Collaborative partnerships with persons with disabilities seeking employment

More than 188 DVR licensed vocational rehabilitation counselors provide services in partnership with 69 consumer case coordinators. DVR's key services include vocational counseling and the purchase of employment and training services and assistive technology. All services are developed in collaboration with the job seeker with a disability and written into an Individualized Plan for Employment. Each year, more than 30,000 individuals with disabilities participate in a plan for employment with DVR.

Counselors and case coordinators deliver team-based services, drawing on the expertise of all team members to most effectively meet the needs of each job seeker with a disability.

Collaborative partnerships with state and county agencies serving persons with disabilities seeking employment

DVR works closely with the Department of Health Services (DHS), the Department of Public Instruction (DPI) and county human services agencies to coordinate services to common customers.

- ◆ Family Care – DVR is collaborating with DHS to support Wisconsin’s Family Care program expansion and the effort to maximize community-based work options for persons with disabilities who need long-term employment supports.
- ◆ Supported Employment – For those areas of the state that are not yet involved in Family Care services, DVR collaborates with county human service agencies to increase employment opportunities for people with severe disabilities by working with the job applicant and an employer to find a job suited to the applicant’s specific skills and abilities. DVR collaborates with county partners to provide the longer-term supports that may be required to maintain employment.
- ◆ High School Transition Services – In partnership with DPI and DHS, DVR works with high school students who are transitioning from high school to post-secondary education and employment. Our joint goal is to work collaboratively with the student and community resources to provide a smooth transition from school to the world of work.
- ◆ Wisconsin Works (W-2) – DVR collaborates with Wisconsin Department of Children and Families (DCF) to maximize the employability of DVR/TANF participants by increasing service collaboration and reducing duplicative efforts. DVR’s agreement with DCF establishes communication and a common understanding regarding the roles, policies and procedures of each agency to improve services to common customers.
- ◆ Corrections – A pilot project in Racine County allowed for the identification of individuals with disabilities who were scheduled for community release. The partnership allowed inmates with disabilities to determine if they were eligible for DVR services, and if so, helped them prepare for successful employment as a component of their community transition.
- ◆ On a statewide scale, the DVR, the Department of Workforce Development’s Division of Employment and Training, the Department of Corrections, and other agency partners participated in the Workforce Pipeline Summit in 2010. The Summit provided a forum for those involved in various pilot projects designed to promote successful employment upon community re-entry of incarcerated individuals. Participants presented their initiatives and outcomes, as well as discussed how agencies in each workforce development area could work together to sustain the initiatives.
- ◆ Native Americans with Disabilities – DVR works closely with the Great Lakes Intertribal Council (GLITC) to improve employment outcomes for Native Americans with disabilities. The partnership focuses on addressing cross-cultural needs and increasing coordination between DVR and tribal VR agencies common customers.
- ◆ Institutions of Higher Education – Agreements with the University of Wisconsin System and the Wisconsin Technical College Systems Board allow DVR and Wisconsin’s Institutions of Higher Education (IHE) to share information regarding financial aid so that individuals are able to make maximum effort to secure financial aids.

Supporting employers who recruit, hire, and retain persons with disabilities

DVR provides a variety of services to Wisconsin employers to assist them to effectively recruit, hire, and retain workers with disabilities.

Division attorneys conduct formal administrative hearings to resolve disputed claims between claimants and employers.

WCD oversees the insurance functions of the worker's compensation program by managing the self-insurers program, the Uninsured Employers Fund, and the wrap-up insurance program. The division also serves as liaison with the Wisconsin Compensation Rating Bureau and the Office of the Commissioner of Insurance.
